Property Management Tips from LB Property Services

1. Invite your contractor for a check-up

You fixed one thing, something else broke. Invite your contractor to walk through your building(s) for a maintenance inspection, make a punch list and a plan for corrective action.

2. See your building through new eyes

How do you think your visitors look at your building? Is it time to freshen up walls and doorways? A fresh coat of paint can do wonders. Make the first impression a good one by ensuring your facility is pristine.

3. Fill the void

We just assume they're safe. Unfortunately, a mere crack in the pavement, chipped piece of concrete, or sudden change in elevation can shatter that assumption in a split second when you go toppling head-first into pavement. Caulking or replacing damaged areas is a proactive way to reduce risk and injury.
