BUSINESS OWNERS: Plan for Next Phase of Life

Provided by Bonnie L. Thompson,
 Edward Jones

As a business owner, you're always thinking about today. But you can't forget about the future – so consider your retirement plan options.

For example, you could establish a Solo 401(k), which offers many of the same advantages as a traditional 401(k), including a range of investment choices, tax-deductible contributions and potential for tax-deferred growth.

You might also look at a SEP-IRA, which is funded with tax-deductible dollars. Or you could even set up a pension for yourself, known as a solo defined benefit plan.

A financial professional can help you choose the appropriate retirement plan. But you'll also need to think about succession planning. How will you exit your business?

You might want to leave it to your children or give it away gradually. Or you could establish a formal "buy-sell" agreement that strictly defines the terms and timing of your sale.

Given the complexities and tax issues involved with succession planning, you'll need to consult your legal and tax advisors. But don't wait too long. You can't predict the future, but by planning ahead, you can help achieve the outcomes you desire.

Whether you're planning for retirement, saving for college for children or grandchildren, or just trying to protect the financial future of the ones you care for most, we can work together to develop specific strategies to help you achieve your goals. We can also monitor your progress to help make sure you stay on track or determine if any adjustments need to be made. Throughout it all, we're dedicated to providing you top-notch client service. Please contact Bonnie L. Thompson at 610.326.1035 for a complimentary review and financial assessment. You only retire once, so a second opinion can be very beneficial. I look forward to meeting with you soon. Bonnie L. Thompson, your Edward Jones financial advisor at 1831 Swamp Pike, Suite 201, Gilbertsville, PA 19525. Phone 610.326.1035.
