BUSINESS PROFILE

Panoptes Solutions

Panoptes Solutions is guided by the knowledge and leadership of Larry Regneth, a recognized leader in business and industry for more than 30 years. Larry earned his MBA from The Fox School of Business and Management at Temple University. Experienced in delivering global business solutions, he has honed his skill set by closely working with "C" level executives at various multi-national organizations including Lockheed Martin, Alcatel-Lucent and Verizon among others. Additionally, Larry has extensive Federal Government know-how, particularly with Secure Agencies, DoD, Systems Integrators and 8(a) firms.

From NASA, to Intelsat, to our nation's security, Larry's focus has been on "Mission Critical Applications" — systems that are essential to the survival of a business or organization. Systems he helped implement and deploy assisted in assuring organizational survivability throughout the world and even in space, protecting billions of dollars in communications satellites and the lives of astronauts.

Larry is an Alcatel Certified Business Networking Specialist and is also certified for Trusted Advisors D.I.A.L.O.G. Assessments (organizational excellence) and Innermetrix International's Advanced Insights Profile (often likened to DISC on steroids). These certifications demonstrate the unique proficiencies that exist within Panoptes Solutions — technology; but with a keen focus on the organizational and individual factors.

Larry launched Panoptes Solutions to bring his unique skills and experiences to the community where he was raised. While he has worked extensively with Fortune 500 companies, he has a great affinity for SMBs having frequently partnered with small business organizations to provide a "best in breed" results for the end-user client. He understands the exceptional solutions many SMBs provide but likewise he also understands the challenges confronting them.
