BUSINESS PROFILE

Eneractive

Eneractive, headquartered in Pottstown, provides customers the tools to meter, manage, and analyze electrical usage with innovative software and expertise services. Since the early 2000s we have installed systems in 42 states and five countries with projects ranging from condos, retail spaces, large office buildings, airports, manufacturing plants, to high security government buildings. As experts in Energy Management Systems we tailor software and services to each customer's needs with SCADA solutions that offer customers an insight into their plants power distribution by visualizing power quality, alarms, events, trends, and usage reports.

As leaders in energy cost recovery, we have installed over 100 Submetering Systems gathering data from more than 20,000 metering points. Our systems and services allow landlords to allocate a building's electrical costs and bill out tenants for what they actually use. With the submetering software's auto data collection and storage, users from property owners to engineers can utilize the 'easy to use' reports to analyze data and recover utility costs.

As an independent integrator and software developer, we can connect devices from various vendors into a single consolidate user-friendly system Power Management System. These are systems ranging from one meter in an office space reporting energy usage to 1,500-meter systems analyzing power quality, trends, waveforms, and alarms. Our larger projects include LAX, Philadelphia Airport, Disneyland, Amazon, Facebook, and Military Installations. Check out our website for more information: www.eneractive.net.
