

NEW MEETING SPACE UNLIKE ANYTHING IN THE AREA

Riverfront rooms are ready to make a big impression

Royersford, Montgomery County is now home to the region's only meeting and corporate event space of its kind. As one of Lewis Development's most recent projects, The Stoveworks serves as a truly one-of-a-kind resource for state-of-the-art corporate event space for off-site strategic planning meetings, team-building retreats, client meetings, private employee reviews, training seminars, and larger scale gatherings such as networking events. The beautifully restored, riverfront setting provides a unique, private location for your organization.

Directly overlooking the Schuylkill River, The Stoveworks lends itself as a refreshing change of pace from a typical corporate setting. And as a fully equipped, multi-room 4,500 square foot space, your team can accomplish the goals of the day while enjoying serene organized comfort. Various room configurations all equipped with today's latest technology ensure that your needs are met, and expectations are exceeded. Whether planning a small offsite focus group, or an executive quarterly sales meeting, the reliable amenities and versatile abilities of The Stoveworks make a seamless meeting certain.

"The Stoveworks is a unique setting and serves as a launching point for our comprehensive riverfront redevelopment project plans which include residential, office, retail and restaurant facilities," says Richard Lewis, President and CEO of The Lewis Group. "We are committed to building a destination-worthy project along Royersford's beautiful riverfront, and we are thrilled to play a part in the wave of revitalization and rebirth of the downtown Royersford business community."

Although exciting future development plans along the riverfront are already on the horizon, business development has been a theme of The Stoveworks since its conception. In fact, operations within the building date back to the 1800s, when a world class stove foundry known as The Buckwalter Stove Company called this place home. The company's success attracted a sizeable workforce which helped Royersford blossom into a borough of committed community members and service organizations. The Stoveworks embraces this rich tradition by providing cutting-edge amenities and first-class assistance allowing users to be as productive as possible while competing in the modern business world. Guarantee your group a dynamic day by reserving a room now by visiting www.StoveworksRoyersford.com or calling 610.495.6695.
