Steve Ladner Photography

I have been a commercial photographer all of my life, and I am grateful that I have been able to sustain myself as an artist doing what I love to do. It all began when a series of fortuitous circumstances after graduating college (NYU) inspired me to develop my skills as an amateur photographer into what became a 25-year career as a fashion photographer in NYC. Photography seemed like a way to earn a living doing something artistic that I loved. It was play in the beginning, and having no expertise at the time, that mind set allowed me to experiment freely. I was almost immediately given a chance by an industry looking for new talent, which was unexpected and amazing to me, and I began working for magazines like GQ, Harper's Bazaar, Town & Country, French Vogue, and cosmetic clients like Revlon, Estee Lauder, and Chanel. Then I had to get serious and taught myself the finer points of the craft.

I got married and had two beautiful little girls. While they were still very young (1.5 and three years old), I decided to move to Paris, France, because I loved the creativity I saw in the fashion magazines there. I stayed for seven years, and my girls became temporarily French, attending a Waldorf school, and only speaking French to each other by the end of our stay.

As a family we had many amazing and sometimes challenging experiences. I was so glad my girls had that life, and I believe they would say the same thing. My family includes my daughter Jackie and her two-year-old son, Jack, and my daughter Sarah, and her 13-year-old daughter, Sophia. We are all very close but they do not live near me. I am still close friends with their mother Marilyn, and she lives in Florida.

Jumping ahead a number of years, no longer shooting fashion, but continuing to photograph commercially, I decided my New York life and experience had come to its natural conclusion. I moved to West Mt. Airy, Philadelphia, and eventually arrived in the Chester Springs area — specifically Birchrunville.

I live alone on a 20-acre horse farm. I feel very grateful to be living in this beautiful countryside after living for so many years in a big city. At this point in my life, I welcome the peace far from the madding crowd. I have entered a new period in my life and career as a professional photographer. The journey I am on now is a process of letting go of judgements of the past, letting go of whatever no longer serves me, letting go of expectations for the future, and

About Us

At Rose Garden Preparatory Day School our fundamental belief revolves around crafting an optimal environment to nurture and educate young children. In fact, our initiative originated from a dedication to our own children and the challenge of finding a high-quality childcare program.

Our array of programs caters to your family's needs: encompassing infant and toddler day care, pre-kindergarten, as well as engaging summer camps! We believe strongly that children learn best through active engagement in rich activities that support critical thinking as well as creative expression.

welcoming the unknown with a perspective of unlimited possibility.

I live with my two sibling cats, Bodhi and Zoey. Living in a close relationship with animals like I never had before has taught me so much about communicating on an energetic level. I appreciate their presence and essence and have learned their language. This animal family has become something really interesting and unique for me.

As a photographer, my years of experience allows me to trust my technique and pay attention to the moment and the creative ideas that come to me as I play and interact with whoever or whatever I am photographing. I am inspired by the beauty I see in everything and everyone. Portrait and headshot sessions with me are fun and relaxed. I will coach you to be your best, your authentic self, resulting in engaging and dynamic images. And over the last 15 years, I have mastered shooting real estate, interiors and exteriors, for listings, or any purpose. Website: <https://stevladner.com>.

In addition to my work as a photographer, I have created a collection of mixed media artwork. This work has been inspired by new perspectives and new directions as I continue to grow as an artist. The art can be seen here: <https://steve-ladner.pixels.com>.
