SPECK'S: More Than Chicken

Speck's has been a Collegeville landmark since 1953, and is often the first stop for people returning to the area. The restaurant was originally based on the idea of "Pipin' Hot Sandwiches" but the Broasted® chicken and homemade coleslaw added in the 1970s quickly became what they are widely known for. Many people refer to the business as "Speck's Chicken" but don't let that reference fool you. They also offer a wide variety of sandwiches, soups, salads, kid's meals, and seafood. With the broad menu, their business model has shifted to "Fast, Affordable, Delicious food." It's a great choice for a quick meal, a family dinner, tailgating, picnics, and parties. Eat-in or take-out, you can't go wrong!

The business is family-owned and operated and is also known to be a great place to work too. It's estimated that they have employed over 3,000 people during their decades of operation. Scores of local teens have started their working experiences here, and many of them become regular customers with their children following on as employees.

Over the years, the area has changed as well as society's restaurant habits. Speck's has adapted to it all by adding delivery services, new menu items, electronic gift cards, etc. and they look forward to serving Collegeville area residents for many years to come!
