

An Exciting New Venue for Car Enthusiasts

More than 50 Limited Edition, High Performance Foreign and American-Made "Super Cars."

Come and visit The Louis J. Mascaro Automotive Museum in Birdsboro, Pennsylvania, where all who visit will be treated to a very special exhibition of unique and exotic automobiles. Lou has spent a lifetime collecting and is now displaying those cars for the public to enjoy at a modern, newly-constructed Museum building located at 325 East Main Street, Birdsboro, Pennsylvania.

Automotive enthusiasts will have the opportunity to view and photograph limited-production, high-performance cars that are in mint condition. These vehicles are part of one of the most premier private auto collections in the country.

The Louis J. Mascaro Automotive Museum is operated as a non-profit charitable foundation, whose purpose is to benefit educational programs and autistic and down syndrome children.

Special group events and private parties are made by reservation contact only for information and booking rates call the number below.
